FIGHTING IN MEXICO FAST AND FURIOUS

Madro Fails to Crush Rebels;
Diaz Receives Enforcement.

Mexico, City, Feb. 13.—Fifth day of fighting ends with two deaths and no advancing to either side.

One American is injured and two noncombatants killed. Several officers were wounded.

The president of the Mexico Red Cross is killed.

Men, women and children sought refuge in cellars, fearing death in the streets.

Firing from roofs continues, with Diaz followers pouring deadly bullets into the enemy.

Tearing to pieces of entire troop reported at gates of capital city.

Following death of Red Cross official, reported neither side is giving immunity to charity workers.

Refugees arriving in Laredo and El Paso report thousands of Americans marooned in Mexico City, unable to get out.

U. S. Army-Navy Board meets with Admiral Dewey on call and perfects plans to invade Mexico.

War Department negotiates with owners of ships for available vessels to be used as transports.

State Department issues figures showing 300,000 Americans in Mexico, of whom 47,000 only have passports.

"First in war,
First in peace,
First in the hearts of his countrymen.

George Washington."
First with the goods,
First with the style,
First in the minds of well-dressed men.

DIED

John Jacob Yazle, an old man who resided on east Broadway, died some time Thursday morning of pneumonia. He was 76 years old.

Mr. Yazle was a member of the G. A. R. He married his present wife at Joplin about two years ago and they have lived here for several months. They lived in poverty, though the old man drew a good pension, and cold and neglect probably hastened his death. He was alone when he died and his death was discovered by a neighbor. Coroner Thomas decided an inquest was unnecessary as there were no marks of violence on the body and no indications of foul play. Members of the G. A. R. had assisted him at different times in an effort to relieve his misery.

KINGS PRAIRIE

This snow has been quite a benefit to the wheat fields.

Dr. Russell was called to Jack Carter's on account of the sickness of his two children. They have about recovered.

Dow Todd, of Tulsa, Ok., formerly of the Prairie, has returned home after a week's visit with relatives and friends. He reports Tulsa on the boom in oil and gas. He took an order for the shipment of some crude oil to some parties on the Prairie. Kings Prairie has plenty of surface gas without digging.

The Sunday School didn't materialize last Sunday. Mr. Stevenson, the superintendent, was sick and the weather was bad.

We regret to learn of the serious illness of Dr. Dummit and family on account of poisoning. We learn they are improving.

E. R. Stribling went to Butterfield last Saturday to fill his appointment at that place Saturday and Sunday. He reports that the work is progressing on the Methodist and Baptist churches.

Nix beat the snow drift to his wood shed this time. He had it under-pinned - and over-pinned, chinked and daubed and the door locked.

B. S. Stribling, who has been on the sick list since Christmas, is not able to be around much yet.

Mr. Catron who had charge of the Prairie school, closed it last week. The patrons came in at noon and spread a good dinner for all. Mr. Catron will lay down the rule and take up the pen. We understand he will go in business with Gurley's company at Fairview.

Hello! Well we are glad to get back to the States again. You remember we told the scribes last fall we were going west to find a more congenial climate. Well, we found it; a beautiful valley surrounded by mountains forever green. The heat caused the nettles to break out on Dad, but we told him he must do his own scratching for a living. Yes, here nature provides the living. This would have been an ideal place for Father Adam and Mother Eve to have got their start without working for a living in the sweat of their eyebrows. They could have sold enough fruit to set up a clothing store. Living streams of water were flowing through, and in the midst of the valley were twelve trees that bore twelve kinds of fruit that ripened twelve months in the year. It was so healthy they had but one grave yard and that was filled up with old men and women who had gotten tired of living and had committed suicide. We would have stayed longer but we were looking for a notice from the committee on destruction that we had out lived our usefulness and had better get ready to shuffle off, but as we were not so tired of living as those other fellows, we left without further notice.

NOTICE

Shaffer Bros. Grocery will be closed Saturday from 10 to 12 o'clock for the funeral of J. Philip Boyne.

The trial of J. W. Dautrich, editor of the Granby Miner, for "engaging in an affray" at Granby recently while attending a meeting of the board of aldermen of that city, came up in Justice Roberts' court in Neosho last Friday on change of venue from Justice Lamberson, at Granby. The case was prosecuted by Prosecuting Attorney B. J. Morrow, while Horace Ruark defended Mr. Dautrich. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. Mr. Kelly, who was engaged in the "scrap" with Mr. Dautrich, plead guilty and was fined $25, in Justice Lamberson's court.—Neosho Miner.

MENDON

The weather has been pretty cold and the roads somewhat muddy, but the people still keep on the stir.

Died in Freistatt Tuesday noon, Grandpa Felwick, with old age and complication of diseases.

Mrs. R. D. Zinn was moved to Mt. Vernon, Monday, where she was operated on Tuesday morning for peritonitis. She stood the operation fine; a great deal better than was expected.

Mr. Norris, of Idabelle, Ok., arrived Wednesday morning to spend a few days with his wife, who has been here at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Messenger.

Mrs. Harris is still in a critical condition. Her children are with her at the home of Sam Shipman.

Mrs. John Grissom is suffering with an attack of heart and stomach trouble this week.

Mrs. Hunnel and mother, Mrs. Pross, spent Sunday with D. S. Shaw and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rausch and Ella Brown spent Sunday with Miss Brown's uncle on the little John Fritz place.

Mrs. Phillips spent Thursday night with Mrs. Hunnel.

Mrs. Minkler and son George returned to their home at Carthage, after being called here on account of the death of Mrs. Minkler's brother, Frank Hunnel.

Quite a few of the neighbors assembled at the home of Mrs. Frank Hunnel Thursday and chopped and hauled a lot of wood for her for which Mrs. Hunnel thanks those who so kindly and willingly assisted her.

Mrs. Shaw assisted Mrs. Hunnel in cooking for the wood choppers, Thursday.

Plenty of sickness in and around this community.

BRAD'S BIT O' VERSE

BY J. C. BRADSHAW

CHILD SLAVES

The wheels keep grinding, grinding, their grist of flesh and bone; the belts keep winding, winding, the weary children groan. We buy the cheap-john garment, a paltry sum to save, and boost the heartless varmint who drives the little slave. We spread the message cheerful in each far heathen land; we give our money, fearful of losing some stray band; to save dark souls from Tophet we work and watch and pray, while greedy lords of profit wreck tiny lives each day. The sky is full of glory, the fields are decked with green, the woodlands chant the story of mingled shade and sheen; but little children languish with aching hand and heart—they toil with hopeless anguish in factory and mart. We go our way a-drumming to find our mission great—the belts keep on a-humming relentlessly as fate. The wheels are grinding, grinding, their voice is never still—and childish souls are finding the grists for that great mill.

THE WEATHER.

Fair, Friday and warmer. Saturday, fair.

Pat O'Hara, a prominent farmer living near Ritchey was stricken with partial paralysis last Saturday.

THE DEMAND OF THE DAY

IS THAT a man shall be judged by his efficiency, by what he accomplishes, and not by what he claims he can do.

NOT in all cases, but quite largely, his ability to accomplish is judged by his accumulations, the care he uses in conserving his income, protecting his future.

THIS BANK cordially welcomes the accounts of earnest men, men who want to get ahead in the world, men who realize they could accomplish more if they only had a start.
